

Whig Nominations.

FOR GOVERNOR:
JOSHUA CHAPIN,
of Providence.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR:
ROWSE BARCOCK, of Westerly.

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE:
CHRISTOPHER E. ROBBINS,
of Providence.

FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL:
JOSEPH M. BLAKE, of Bristol.

FOR GENERAL TREASURER:
SAMUEL A. PARKER,
of Newport.

FOR MEMBERS OF CONGRESS:

EASTERN DISTRICT:
GEORGE C. KING,
of Newport.

WESTERN DISTRICT:
CHARLES JACKSON, of Scituate.

A Whig meeting was held at the Town Hall, Saturday evening. Hon. Robert B. Cranston was chosen Chairman, and Mr. Charles E. Lawton Secretary.

The following gentlemen were appointed a Committee to select suitable persons for Senator and Representatives to the General Assembly, for the ensuing political year:

First Ward, George H. Norman.
Second Ward, Edward W. Lawton.
Third Ward, Benjamin Marsh.
Fourth Ward, Joseph Paddock, Jr.
Fifth Ward, Walter Nichols.

The Ward Committees of last year were re-elected.

After some few remarks from several gentlemen, the meeting adjourned, on Monday evening, 21st inst., at half past 7 o'clock, at the Town Hall.

On the indictment the State vs. Childs and Kane, the Jury were unable to agree. Friday evening, and the papers were taken from them. Saturday morning a new Jury was taken up, and the prisoners were again tried and found not guilty of Burglary, but guilty of Larceny. They were sentenced to three years each in the State Prison. Brown, the colored boy, previously pleaded guilty, and was used as a witness against his associates. After the verdict against the other two, he retracted his plea of guilty of Burglary, and pleaded guilty of Larceny; he was sentenced to one year in the State Prison. The Court then adjourned to meet again according to law.

The Free Soilers are anxious to hold a meeting, in this town, for the purpose of electing Delegates to their State and Congressional Conventions which are to be held in Providence on Thursday evening next, but there is a serious impediment from the circumstance that it is supposed that there is no building in town sufficiently capacious to accommodate all who will desire to attend. We suggest to them the propriety of holding the meeting in Washington Square, as that would probably hold nearly all who would attend.

We are by the New York papers that the World's Fair Art Union, has exploded, and the person who advertised himself as its Secretary has been arrested on a charge of fraud. We published their advertisement in good faith, supposing that no man were so base as to advertise an incorporated Company, unless such was the fact.

"The American Household Budget" is the title of a handsome weekly publication of sixteen pages, in the quarto form, the first number of which has just been published in Boston, by S. G. Andrews & Co., at three dollars per annum. It contains a good number of articles, original and selected, and is intended as a family paper, somewhat after the pattern of Dickens's Household Words. Mr. Isaac F. Shephard, formerly connected with the Bee, appears to be the editor, or at least one of the principal contributors.

Commodore Stockton, the newly elected U. S. Senator of New Jersey, in a speech delivered at Trenton, since his election, declared himself in favor of protecting American industry. He expressed himself in the following unequivocal language:

"He had been made the standard bearer of the State and on that stand he should inscribe Agriculture, Manufactures, and Commerce. These it was his duty to protect. In these consisted the prosperity and happiness of the State. He meant to stand up for these interests, and so far as in him lay, give them all the protection that it was possible to procure for them."

We copy the following article from the Providence Journal, and certainly think that Gov. Anthony has touched off the youthful candidates in his happiest vein.

The Youthful Ticket.

We take the following article from the Post of yesterday, in which it is credited to the Brooklyn Daily Eagle. Notwithstanding the wonderful acquaintance with Rhode Island men and Rhode Island affairs which the Brooklyn paper discerns, we should not have transferred the article to our columns, had we not found it in the Post, which may at least be supposed to be well informed touching one of the candidates.

A more judicious selection of public officers than the party have now nominated, could not have been made. Philip Allen, the gentleman nominated for Governor, a manufacturer and a man of wealth, has been so long and so favorably known to the community that it is almost superfluous to speak of him. His integrity of character, liberality, public spirit, and open handed charities, have endeared him in an especial manner to the middle and poorer classes of people, while his education, gentlemanly deportment, and pure moral character, exacts and receives the respect and confidence of all classes. He is the only one on the new ticket, in the meridian of life. The others are all young men, the eldest of whom, however, Gov. Thurston, candidate for Congress for the Western District, is a man of unblemished character, of mild and amiable temper, and of solid and sterling qualities, and a firm and uncompromising friend to the best interests of his country. The other candidate for Congress is Welcome B. Sayles, Esq., late Postmaster under Mr. Polk's administration. He is a very promising and talented young man, quick and discerning, eloquent in speech, and ready in argument. He is altogether a self-made man, and we believe that scandal itself can attach no dishonor to his name. While holding the office of Postmaster in Providence, it was universally admitted, by both parties, that the affairs of that department in Rhode Island had never been so well conducted. The candidate for Attorney General, Walter S. Burgess, Esq., late District Attorney for that State, though a young man, is another most judicious selection. Mr. Burgess would have been an eligible candidate for Congress—but it would have ruined his business as a lawyer, and compelled him to renounce an extensive practice. We know of no grounds upon which Mr. Burgess could be opposed, but those of party. He is a nephew of the Hon. Tripartite Burgess, and talent seems almost an heir-loom in that family. He has always been opposed to that gentleman, however, in politics, and is a man who ventures to think for himself on all occasions. He is not related, as has been reported, to the present Judge of Probate, and his son the Mayor of Providence, who are an entirely different stock, though bearing the same name. On the whole, this is decidedly the best selection for offices of honor and trust we have ever known in Rhode Island, of any name or party, and we wish it abundant success. That unhappy State has hitherto been wretchedly disgraced by the character and conduct of its public officers, and we hope to live to see it redeemed.

We hope that none of our readers who propose to vote for the Democratic nomination will be driven away by the extreme youth of the candidates. Young Lawrence was born in the year 1800, and the juvenile candidate for General Treasurer we presume will never see fifty again. Young Asa graduated at Brown University twenty-seven years ago, and was no chicken then. We do not know his precise age, but he is a grand-father. Our young friend Mr. Burgess is about forty-five, and Mr. Thurston must be something over the adolescent age of fifty.

The "promising and talented young man" who has consented to the use of his name in the Eastern Congressional District, reached the constitutional age for President of the United States some five or six years ago, and when he read the glowing account of his own talents and qualifications so conspicuously displayed in his own columns, we chiefly wonder that his claims for that station have been so long overlooked. He is right, however, in attending to the affairs of Rhode Island first, since the State has been so "wretchedly disgraced" by the character and conduct of its public officers. The accession of better and abler men must be a matter of deep concern to these remarkably pure and able men who lead the Democratic party. Let our "promising and talented young" friend remember that the "seventeen millions of eyes" that gazed upon him with such intensity of interest ten years ago have grown to be twenty-four millions now, and that they will look the more eagerly now that they see, as they read the article which we have copied, how he has grown in grace as he has grown in years.

We are glad to learn that the respected head of the ticket is only in the meridian of life. He belongs to a family remarkable for its longevity, and we sincerely hope that he may survive to the patriarchal age which he must attain in order to justify this estimate of his years.

On the whole, we are inclined to the opinion that, if by reason of some unforeseen accident, the Democratic ticket should not be elected the calamity will not be fairly attributable to the youth of the candidates; although we must confess that we think the greater part of them have not yet arrived at "years of discretion."

The Post has been very reluctant to enter into any discussion upon the question of Mr. Lawrence's residence; but on Tuesday it publishes a deprecating paragraph, hoping that the canvassers of Newport will not disfranchise a man because the Democrats have nominated him for office. The Post says that most of its readers "were aware of the most prominent facts in the case of Mr. Lawrence." Now the Post knows very well that the greater part of its readers never heard of the name of Mr. Lawrence, never knew that there was such a man, till they saw his name on the ticket that they are directed to support. Those of the readers of the Post who have passed the fashionable season in Newport, know Mr. Lawrence as a gentleman of cultivation, agreeable manner, and of elegant hospitality; but even they did not suppose that he was a resident of Newport, in any other sense than a hundred gentlemen of New York and Boston who pass their summers in that pleasant watering place are residents.

Again says the Post:

"In the winter of 1849-50, he gave up all thoughts of further residence, summer or winter, in New York; ceased to keep house there, and with his family and furniture—more or less of the same—moved finally to Newport."

What time in the winter of 1849-50 did Mr. Lawrence finally remove to Newport? Far we take it that when a citizen of New York gives up all thoughts of further residence in that state he does not thereby become a citizen of Rhode Island. The precise date at which he finally removed is the matter of importance; and this the Post strangely overlooks. The Newport News, however, supplies it; it was on the twenty-ninth day of April, 1850, that Mr. Lawrence finally removed to Newport; and on the 29th day of April, 1851, he will acquire the rights of citizenship here;—not an hour before. His making up his mind in New York amounts to nothing; his sending furniture here, as he had doubtless been in the habit of doing occasionally for a dozen years, amounts to nothing. The term requisite to the acquisition of citizenship commences when he came himself, with the determination to remain.

Again we quote from the Post:

"After his nomination, it was discovered that his name had been left off the voting list. The attention of the proper authority was called to it, and the name was immediately placed upon the list, and now stands upon the registry of voters posted in that town."

This the Post, we suppose, calls a fair statement of facts. The truth is his name was not on the list when the list was made up. Nobody applied to have it placed on the list. Nobody supposed that it had any right there. Does anybody believe that after the Dorrites had determined upon an effort to carry the state, a man like William B. Lawrence, who had subscribed liberally to the registry fund, would have been overlooked?—and this too, in Newport, where they go to the very tomb stones for names! And after Mr. Lawrence had been nominated, and his want of residence stated, how was the attention of the proper authority called to it? By Mr. Lawrence himself. The Newport News says:

"Mr. Lawrence's name was put on, at his request, before the lists were posted up, just as any one's name would be put there, who claimed the right to have it there. The hearing before the board of canvassers has not yet been had on the question. At the proper time the merits of the case will be gone into, and if Mr. Lawrence has not gained a legal residence here, his name will not remain on the list."

There was no accident in the original omission of Mr. Lawrence's name on the registry; there is no validity in the subsequent placing of it there. The question must be decided by the canvassers.—Prov. Journal.

MUSIC IN COURT.—The Kent, Md., News reports that a party of Calathumpians who had been "making night hideous" with their odd species of music were tried recently, on the information of the Commissioners of Chestertown, for violating an ordinance of that place against riotous or disorderly conduct after night. The instrument used was called a "horse fiddle;" and several witnesses testified that its notes were very pleasant to their ears. One gentleman said he regretted when the sounds ceased, and thought, as a bass instrument, it would go well in a band of music. The case was elaborately argued, and a judgment rendered for the defendants.

A translation of a verse by Matthias Claudius, a German wit and poet, runs as follows:

When in Paradise Adam sleeping laid,
Woman from out his side was made,
Poor Adam! father of all our woes!
Thy first sound sleep became thy last repose!

BY TELEGRAPH.
FROM CALIFORNIA.
BY THE EMPIRE CITY.

New York, March 9.

The Empire City has arrived from Chagres.—She brings 160 passengers, and $750,000 gold dust. She left Kingston March 1st.

There were very few passengers on the Isthmus, which was as healthy as could be expected.

The Pacific News of February 1st, says:—The Legislature is rapidly and judiciously framing appropriate laws for the internal government of the State.

The canvass for Senator is an exciting one. The Democrats have four or five candidates in the field, and their opponents but one.

President Fillmore's Message was well received in California, except the proposition to divide and sell the mineral lands, which is opposed both in and out of the legislature.

CONFLICT WITH THE INDIANS.

A San Jose correspondent writes, that late on Sunday evening last an express from the Maripozee recalled the Governor, bringing the sad news of a disastrous engagement with the Indians at night.

Mr. Savage had attacked them one afternoon early in last week, and has killed about 30 of their number, with the loss of only two of his men. The party then encamped on the field, and during the night they were attacked by the Indians with the loss of about 70 of their number.

The action of the government will no doubt be prompt and energetic, and thus alone the evil can be stayed. A petition for aid, signed by 50 or 60 citizens of Mariposa County, has been presented to the executive.

The Indians appear to have commenced a war of extermination. It is rumored that the Standing Committee of the Senate on Indian affairs have had a special and extraordinary meeting this evening.

It is stated that the subject matter under consideration was contained in these despatches.

FROM THE MINES.

The miners upon Rattlesnake Creek and other regions have been obliged to suspend operations, in consequence of the difficulties. The number of warriors engaged in hostilities in the Tuolumne and the Three Rivers is estimated at 7000.

The mines in the region of El Dorado are doing well; for want of rain they have been forced to leave the ravines, and are now generally confining their services to the banks of the rivers, with good success. More gold is being taken out now than during last summer, notwithstanding the great failure of the damming operations. During the past season, greater preparations have been made for the coming year, and the efforts of the miners will be more energetically directed to the beds of the streams the future season than during the past.

The diggers have abandoned the Deer Creek country, after having thrown up an immense deal of dirt, for the lack of water to wash it. They have generally come into the forks of the Yuba river.—As soon as there is rain to warrant their return, they will go back to the Deer Creek, in hopes to reap the avails of their labor.

The mining prospects in Nuevado City, are more favorable.

The mines in the mountains are more successfully prosecuting their labors than for some time past, and as soon as the product comes into market, a great revival of business may be looked for.

About 500 miners are at work near Weaverville, whose average yield in- dpendent of expenses, is $3 per day.—Sacramento is much excited by the Gold Bluff stories. Major Downey took out a large lump of gold on the forks of the Yuba, in the region of Grass Valley, valued at 1600 dollars. In about five weeks he dug out of the same hole between 5 and 6000 dollars.

Mr. Audubon, the celebrated ornithologist, has left behind him an autobiography, which will be carefully revised by his sons, and will be published in a few months, with the required notes and supplementary biography.

It was announced by Mr. Dawson in Congress, on Saturday, that at the end of the current fiscal year the public debt of the United States will amount to one hundred millions of dollars.

THE NEW COMMISSIONER OF PATENTS.—Mr. Geo. T. Curtis, who is appointed successor to Mr. Ewbank, removed for cause, is a lawyer of good standing, and the author of Curtis's Treatise on Patent Law—a work recognized by the courts and by all who have occasion to use it, as a very able. No man in the United States is perhaps, better qualified to fill the office of Commissioner of Patents than Geo. T. Curtis. He is the brother of B. R. Curtis, Esq., a lawyer recognized as standing at the head of the New England bar, a man of wealth, independent property, the son-in-law of Judge Story, and of unapproachable integrity.

CONGRESS.

Washington, March 7th.

SENATE.—Mr. Hunter offered a resolution, directing the members of the Cabinet to report, at the next session, some plan to classify clerks in the Departments, for a fair and impartial examination of candidates for clerkships, and for devising other means for their promotion. Adopted.

Mr. Jefferson Davis offered a resolution of inquiry, as to whether the President's signature had been obtained, in due form of law, to the bill for the relief of the American Colonization Society.—Laid over.

On motion, 3000 copies of the Report of the Regents of the Smithsonian Institution were ordered to be printed.

The Senate then went into executive session and afterwards adjourned.

MORRILL'S

IMPERIAL STOVE POLISH.

The proprietors of the above article, having, by numerous experiments, tested its utility, feel confident in recommending it for polishing Stoves, Grates, Furnels and all kinds of ornamental iron work, as superior to anything ever before offered to the Public. It is not one of those articles which requires puffing constantly, and an exhibition of endless certificates, which are easily obtained, to make it sell. It relies solely on its own merits, asking but one trial to convince the most incredulous of its superior qualities. It is free from any ingredient which will hurt the article polished, and no dust is made in the application. No smoke or disagreeable smell will be caused by heating the Stove after polishing. For Russia Iron, nothing can compare with it. Warranted to give satisfaction, if applied according to directions, or the money will be refunded.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by J. E. MORRILL, Mulberry street, Fall River, Mass.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: In reply to your note, I have the pleasure to say that the books and papers contained in the Safe I bought of you, were perfectly legible and unharmed by fire at the burning of the Chelsea Laundry, on the night of the 10th instant. There were no papers and book notes in the drawers of the Safe, which had no appearance of having passed through fire. The Safe was exposed to intense heat for several hours.

Respectfully yours,

The following letter from the Superintendent of the Marine Telegraph Company, is another proof of the superiority of JOHN E. WILDER'S Safe over all others:

BOSTON, Oct. 24, 1859.

John E. Wilder, Esq.—Dear Sir: The Safe I purchased of you was exposed to a great degree of heat at the burning of the Telegraph office in this city. It was in the fire six hours; the books and papers were unharmed, and the damage to the Safe very trifling, although it fell from the second story to the basement of the building. The little repairs necessary to the Safe have been made, and we shall not need to return it. It is still as good as new.

Respectfully yours,
